Clause 8, page 5, line 29, at end insert “and without unreasonable cost”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment would protect authorities in cases where the provision of access to a public highway, connections for electricity, water and waste water and other services required to ensure a plot of land is fully serviced would entail excessive cost.

Teresa Pearce

Clause 9, page 5, line 42, after “permission”, insert “to meet housing need generally including”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment would ensure that authorities give suitable development permission to housing across all tenures, including but not limited to self-build and custom housebuilding, to meet the demand for housing across all tenures in any given authority area.

Teresa Pearce

Clause 9, page 5, line 43, after first “the”, insert “effective”

2

Clause 12, page 8, line 17, leave out “letting” and insert “property”
Member’s explanatory statement
Part 2 of the Bill contains various references to rogue landlords and letting agents. NC8 has the effect of extending the Part to property managers, whether or not they are landlords or letting agents. As a result the references to rogue landlords and letting agents need to be changed to refer to rogue landlords and “property agents”, a term that is defined by amendment 48 to mean letting agents and property managers.

Clause 14, page 9, line 12, at end insert—

“(1A) If a local housing authority in England applies for a banning order against a body corporate that has been convicted of a banning order offence, it must also apply for a banning order against any officer who has been convicted of the same offence in respect of the same conduct.”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment ensures that where a local authority applies for a banning order against a company that has been convicted of an offence, it must also apply for a banning order against any officer who has been convicted of the same offence (for example, under section 251 of the Housing Act 2004).

Brandon Lewis

7

Clause 14, page 9, line 13, after “order” insert “under subsection (1)”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment removes the need for a notice of intended proceedings in cases where a local housing authority is obliged to apply for a banning order because of amendment 6. It would not make sense to invite a person to make representations in a case where the authority is obliged to make an application.

Brandon Lewis

8

Clause 14, page 9, line 16, after “why,” insert—

“() stating the length of each proposed ban,”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment requires the length of each proposed ban to be stated in the notice of intended proceedings that a local housing authority has to give a person before applying for a banning order.

★ Clause 14, page 9, line 20, at end insert “and must make all reasonable effort to consult with any affected tenant of the person the authority is intending to proceed against.”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment would require local housing authorities to consult directly with any tenants of a landlord or a letting agent when making a banning order.

“(2A) Where an application is made under section 14(1A) against an officer of a body corporate, the First-tier Tribunal may make a banning order against the officer even if the condition in subsection (1)(b) is not met.”
Member’s explanatory statement
This ensures that where a body corporate commits a banning order offence and an officer commits the same offence, an order can be made against the officer even though he or she was not a residential landlord etc at the time the offence was committed (i.e. because it was the company that was the landlord etc). The amendment is related to amendment 6.

This amendment would equip banned landlords and letting agents with the knowledge and skill to properly manage a property.

★ Clause 16, page 10, line 9, at end insert—

“(5) The court may issue a rent repayment order as provided in Chapter 4 of this Part when prosecuting a landlord or letting agent for a banning order offence.

(6) The court may issue a rent repayment order as provided in Chapter 4 once prosecution of a landlord or letting agent for a housing related offence has commenced and before proceedings have concluded.

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment would allow the court to issue a rent repayment order whilst prosecution for a banning order or housing related offence is underway.

Brandon Lewis

13

Clause 17, page 10, line 13, leave out “person has breached a banning order” and insert “person’s conduct amounts to an offence under section (Offence of breach of banning order)”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment is consequential on NC3.

Brandon Lewis

14

Clause 17, page 10, line 15, leave out “that applied for the banning order” and insert “for the area in which the housing to which the conduct relates is situated”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment changes which local housing authority may impose a financial penalty where a person breaches a banning order. At the moment the authority that originally applied for the banning order is responsible for imposing a penalty; the amendment will make the authority where the breach occurs responsible.

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment would increase the financial penalty imposed for breach of a banning order from a maximum of £5,000 to a maximum of £20,000.

Brandon Lewis

16

Clause 17, page 10, line 22, at end insert—

“() The responsible local housing authority may not impose a financial penalty in respect of any conduct amounting to an offence under section (Offence of breach of banning order) if—

- (a) the person has been convicted of an offence under that section in respect of the conduct, or
- (b) criminal proceedings for the offence have been instituted against the person in respect of the conduct and the proceedings have not been concluded.”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment ensures that a person does not end up with a financial penalty as well as a conviction for the criminal offence created by NC3.

Gareth Thomas

Brandon Lewis

17

Clause 21, page 11, line 21, leave out “a director, secretary or other” and insert “an”

Member’s explanatory statement*This amendment leaves out unnecessary words. “Officer” is defined by clause 48 to include directors and secretaries so there is no need to mention them specifically.*

() in a case where the landlord is a body corporate, any body corporate that has an officer in common with the landlord.”

Brandon Lewis

19

Clause 22, page 11, line 34, leave out “letting” and insert “property”

20

Clause 23, page 12, line 5, leave out from “must” to end of line 6 and insert “make an entry in the database in respect of a person if—

- (a) a banning order has been made against the person following an application by the authority, and
- (b) no entry was made under section 24, before the banning order was made, on the basis of a conviction for the offence to which the banning order relates.”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment ensures that where a person is included in the database of rogue landlords and letting agents under clause 24, there is no conflict with the requirement to make an entry in the database if a banning order is made in respect of the same offence.

Brandon Lewis

Clause 24, page 12, line 10, leave out “enter a person in the database” and insert “make an entry in the database in respect of a person”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment clarifies the drafting to ensure that it is possible to make more than one entry in the database in respect of the same person. This might occur if a person is convicted of a new banning order offence after he or she has been included in the database in respect of an earlier banning order offence. A person may have several concurrent entries although for anyone searching the database they may in practice be displayed as a single entry.

Clause 32, page 15, line 14, at end insert—

“7	This Act	section (Offence of breach of banning order)	breach of banning order”

Member’s explanatory statement

In the Bill as introduced a rent repayment order is available where a person commits an offence to which Chapter 4 of Part 2 applies or breaches a banning order. NC3 makes breach of a banning order a criminal offence so it is now possible to treat it in the same way as other offences to which Chapter 4 applies. That is the purpose of this amendment and various other amendments to Chapter 4.

- (6) In this section “spent”, in relation to a conviction, means spent for the purposes of the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974.”

Member’s explanatory statement*This amendment allows a banning order to be revoked or varied in certain circumstances.*

NC3

To move the following Clause—

“Offence of breach of banning order

- (1) A person who breaches a banning order commits an offence.
- (2) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable on summary conviction to imprisonment for a period not exceeding 51 weeks or to a fine or to both.
- (3) If a financial penalty under section 17 has been imposed in respect of the breach, the person may not be convicted of an offence under this section.

- (4) In relation to an offence committed before section 281(5) of the Criminal Justice Act 2003 comes into force, the reference in subsection (2) to 51 weeks is to be read as a reference to 6 months.”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment makes it an offence to breach a banning order.

NC4

To move the following Clause—

“Offences by bodies corporate

- (1) Where an offence under section (Offence of breach of banning order) committed by a body corporate is proved to have been committed with the consent or connivance of, or to be attributable to any neglect on the part of, an officer of a body corporate, the officer as well as the body corporate commits the offence and is liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly.
- (2) Where the affairs of a body corporate are managed by its members, subsection (1) applies in relation to the acts and defaults of a member in connection with the member’s functions of management as if the member were an officer of the body corporate.”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment ensures that officers of a body corporate can be prosecuted for offences committed by it under NC3. “Officer” is given a broad definition by clause 48 of the Bill.

NC5

To move the following Clause—

“Power to require information

- (1) A local housing authority may require a person to provide specified information for the purpose of enabling the authority to decide whether to apply for a banning order against the person.
- (2) It is an offence for the person to fail to comply with a requirement, unless the person has a reasonable excuse for the failure.
- (3) It is an offence for the person to provide information that is false or misleading if the person knows that the information is false or misleading or is reckless as to whether it is false or misleading.
- (4) A person who commits an offence under this section is liable on summary conviction to a fine.”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment allows a local housing authority to require a person to provide information for the purpose of deciding whether to apply for a banning order. For example, the number of properties that a landlord has may be relevant to whether an authority applies for a banning order. The power would allow the authority to require the landlord to provide that information.

“Removal or variation of entries made under section 24

- (1) An entry made in the database under section 24 may be removed or varied in accordance with this section.
- (2) If the entry was made on the basis of one or more convictions all of which are overturned on appeal, the responsible local housing authority must remove the entry.
- (3) If the entry was made on the basis of more than one conviction and some of them (but not all) have been overturned on appeal, the responsible local housing authority may—
 - (a) remove the entry, or
 - (b) reduce the period for which the entry must be maintained.
- (4) If the entry was made on the basis of one or more convictions that have become spent, the responsible local housing authority may—

- (5) If a local housing authority removes an entry in the database, or reduces the period for which it must be maintained, it must notify the person to whom the entry relates.
- (6) In this section—

“responsible local housing authority” means the local housing authority by which the entry was made;

“spent”, in relation to a conviction, means spent for the purposes of the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974.”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment allows a local housing authority to remove an entry in the database of rogue landlords and property agents or reduce the time for which the entry must be maintained in certain circumstances. See also NC7. There is no mention of clause 23 as an entry under that clause is maintained for as long as the banning order has effect.

NC7

- (1) A person in respect of whom an entry is made in the database under section 24 may request the responsible local housing authority to use its powers under section (Removal or variation of entries made under section 24) to—

 - (b) a summary of the appeal rights conferred by this section.
- (5) Where a person is given notice that the responsible local housing authority has decided not to comply with the request the person may appeal to the First-tier Tribunal against that decision.
- (6) An appeal to the First-tier Tribunal under subsection (5) must be made before the end of the period of 21 days beginning with the day on which the notice was given.
- (7) The First-tier Tribunal may allow an appeal to be made to it after the end of that period if satisfied that there is a good reason for the person’s failure to appeal within the period (and for any subsequent delay).
- (8) On an appeal under this section the tribunal may order the local housing authority to—
 - (a) remove the entry, or
 - (b) reduce the period for which the entry must be maintained.”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment allows a person to request a local housing authority to use its powers to remove or vary an entry in the database of rogue landlords and property agents (see NC6). If the local housing authority refuses, the person may appeal to the First-tier Tribunal.
