- (a) a set of environmental principles,
 - (b) a duty on the Secretary of State to publish a statement of policy in relation to the application and interpretation of those principles in connection with the making and development of policies by Ministers of the Crown,
 - (c) a duty which ensures that Ministers of the Crown must have regard, in circumstances provided for by or under the Bill, to the statement mentioned in paragraph (b),
 - (d) provisions for the establishment of a public authority with functions for taking, in circumstances provided for by or under the Bill, proportionate enforcement action (including legal proceedings if necessary) where the authority considers that a Minister of the Crown is not complying with environmental law (as it is defined in the Bill), and
 - (e) such other provisions as the Secretary of State considers appropriate.
- (2) The set of environmental principles mentioned in subsection (1)(a) must (however worded) consist of—
- (a) the precautionary principle so far as relating to the environment,
 - (b) the principle of preventative action to avert environmental damage,
 - (c) the principle that environmental damage should as a priority be rectified at source,
 - (d) the polluter pays principle,
 - (e) the principle of sustainable development,
 - (f) the principle that environmental protection requirements must be integrated into the definition and implementation of policies and activities,
 - (g) public access to environmental information,

“Environmental Governance and Enforcement after leaving the EU

- (1) Before making regulations specifying exit day under section 14, the Secretary of State must prepare and publish proposals for a new public body (the ‘Environmental Protection Agency’) which will have the purposes, powers and form specified in this section.
- (2) The Environmental Protection Agency shall at minimum have the following purposes—
 - (a) to enforce the implementation of environmental law by public authorities,

- (b) to uphold environmental rights,
 - (c) to oversee implementation of environmental law,
 - (d) to produce and receive reports about the condition of the environment,
 - (e) to provide citizens with a free and accessible way of raising complaints relating to alleged breaches of environmental law,
 - (f) to provide advice and information to Ministers about how best to implement policies promoting environmental principles, and
 - (g) to conduct investigations into matters relating to the environment as requested by select committees of the House of Commons, committees of the House of Lords, or petitions received by the House of Commons.
- (3) The Secretary of State must set out the steps he will take to ensure the Environmental Protection Agency shall have at minimum the following powers—
- (a) to conduct thematic inquiries into systematic failures to implement or comply with environmental law by public authorities,
 - (b) to issue formal notices to public authorities requiring action,
 - (c) to apply—
 - (i) in England, Wales and Northern Ireland, to the county court for an injunction compelling or restraining action by a public authority, and
 - (ii) in Scotland, to the Sheriff for an interdict prohibiting or compelling action by a public authority,
 - (d) to issue structural injunctions requiring Ministers to take steps to ensure Government policy does not conflict with the environmental principles,
 - (e) to fine public authorities for failures to comply with structural injunctions.
- (4) The Secretary of State must take steps to ensure that the Environmental Protection Agency is constituted in such a way that—
- (a) it may discharge its duties without interference from Ministers or other public authorities,
 - (b) it is primarily accountable to Parliament,
 - (c) it receives a level of funding necessary to carry out its duties, and
 - (d) a Minister of the Crown may not change the Environmental Protection Agency's constitution.
- (5) The Secretary of State must take steps to ensure that a set of robust environmental principles are clearly set out, enforced and that where any public authority fails to comply with the environmental principles the Environmental Protection Agency may use powers listed under subsection (3) to enforce compliance as soon as is practicable.
- (6) In this section, 'the environmental principles' means a set of objectives for government policy and the activities and policies of public authorities, including but not limited to—
- (a) the sustainable development principle, which requires that the policies and activities of public authorities do not harm the ability of future generations to meet their needs,
 - (b) the precautionary principle, which requires that where there are threats of serious or irreversible environmental damage, lack of full scientific certainty shall not be used as a reason for postponing cost-effective measures to prevent environmental degradation,
 - (c) the prevention principle, which requires preventative action to be taken to avert environmental damage,

- (d) the polluter pays principle, which requires the cost of pollution control and remediation to be borne by those who have caused the pollution,
- (e) the rectification at source principle, which requires that environmental damage should as a priority be rectified by targeting its original cause and taking preventive action at source, and
- (f) the integration principle, which requires that environmental protection requirements must be integrated into the definition and implementation of policies and activities.”

Secretary David Davis

To move the following Amendments to the Bill in lieu of the Lords Amendment:—

Secretary David Davis

Agreed to (a)

“Family unity for those seeking asylum or other protection in Europe

- (1) A Minister of the Crown must seek to negotiate, on behalf of the United Kingdom, an agreement with the EU under which, after the United Kingdom’s withdrawal from the EU, in accordance with the agreement—

5

- (a) an unaccompanied child who has made an application for international protection to a member State may, if it is in the child’s best interests,

- come to the United Kingdom to join a relative who is aged 18 or over and—
- 10 (i) is a lawful resident of the United Kingdom, or
(ii) has made a protection claim which has not been decided, and
- (b) an unaccompanied child in the United Kingdom, who has made a protection claim, may go to a member State to join a relative there, in equivalent circumstances.
- 15 (2) For the purposes of subsection (1)(a)(i) a person is not a lawful resident of the United Kingdom if the person requires leave to enter or remain in the United Kingdom but does not have it.
- (3) For the purposes of subsection (1)(a)(ii), a protection claim is decided—
- 20 (a) when the Secretary of State notifies the claimant of the Secretary of State’s decision on the claim, unless the claimant appeals against the decision, or
(b) if the claimant appeals against the Secretary of State’s decision on the claim, when the appeal is disposed of.
- (4) In this section—
- 25 “application for international protection” has the meaning given by Article 2(h) of Directive 2011/95/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council on standards for the qualification of third-country nationals or stateless persons as beneficiaries of international protection, for a uniform status for refugees or for persons eligible for subsidiary protection, and for the content of the protection granted;
- 30 “protection claim” has the same meaning as in Part 5 of the Nationality, Immigration and Asylum Act 2002 (see section 82(2) of that Act);
- “relative”, in relation to an unaccompanied child, means—
- (a) a spouse or civil partner of the child or any person with whom the child has a durable relationship that is similar to marriage or civil partnership, or
- 35 (b) a parent, grandparent, brother or sister of the child;
- “unaccompanied child” means a person under the age of 18 (“the child”) who is not in the care of a person who—
- 40 (a) is aged 18 or over, and
(b) by law or custom of the country or territory in which the child is present, has responsibility for caring for the child.”
