- (1) The fisheries objectives are—
- (a) the sustainability objective,
 - (b) the precautionary objective,
 - (c) the ecosystem objective,
 - (d) the scientific evidence objective,
 - (e) the discards objective, and
 - (f) the equal access objective.

5

- (2) The “sustainability objective” is to ensure that fishing and aquaculture activities are –
- (a) environmentally sustainable in the long term, and
 - (b) managed in a way that is consistent with the objectives of achieving economic, social and employment benefits, and of contributing to the availability of food supplies. 5
- (3) The “precautionary objective” is –
- (a) to apply the precautionary approach to fisheries management, and
 - (b) to ensure that exploitation of living marine biological resources restores and maintains populations of harvested species above biomass levels capable of producing maximum sustainable yield. 10
- (4) The “ecosystem objective” is –
- (a) to implement an ecosystem-based approach to fisheries management so as to ensure that negative impacts of fishing activities on the marine ecosystem are minimised, and 15
 - (b) to ensure that aquaculture and fisheries activities avoid the degradation of the marine environment.
- (5) The “scientific evidence objective” is –
- (a) to contribute to the collection of scientific data, and
 - (b) to base fisheries management policy on the best available scientific advice. 20
- (6) The “discards objective” is to gradually eliminate discards, on a case-by-case basis, by –
- (a) avoiding and reducing, as far as possible, unwanted catches, and
 - (b) gradually ensuring that catches are landed. 25
- (7) The “equal access objective” is to ensure that the access of UK fishing boats to any area within British fishery limits is not affected by –
- (a) the location of the fishing boat’s home port, or
 - (b) any other connection of the fishing boat, or any of its owners, to any place in the United Kingdom. 30

 - (b) providing conditions for an economically viable and competitive fishing capture and processing industry and land-based fishing related activity;
 - (c) providing for measures to adjust the fishing capacity of fleets to levels of fishing opportunities consistent with the precautionary objective, with a view to having economically viable fleets without overexploiting marine biological resources; 10
 - (d) promoting the development of sustainable aquaculture activities to contribute to food supplies and security and employment; 15
 - (e) contributing to a fair standard of living for those who depend on fishing activities, bearing in mind coastal fisheries and socio-economic factors;
