<sup>1</sup> References in this statement to a provision being within the legislative competence of the Scottish Parliament, the National Assembly for Wales or the Northern Ireland Assembly are to the provision being within the legislative competence of the relevant devolved legislature for the purposes of Standing Order No. 83J of the Standing Orders of the House of Commons relating to Public Business.

2. There are no changes to territorial application as a result of any Government amendments tabled for CCLA.

Subject matter and legislative competence of devolved legislatures

3. The amendments that apply to England and Wales deal, in general terms, with reform of the process in the Mental Capacity Act 2005 (“MCA”) for authorising arrangements enabling the care or treatment of people who lack capacity to consent to the arrangements, which give rise to a deprivation of their liberty. As noted in paragraph 1 of the Explanatory Notes.
4. In the opinion of the UK government, the subject matter of the Bill is within the devolved legislative competence of the Scotland and Northern Ireland legislatures (mental capacity is not a reserved matter within Schedule 5 to the Scotland Act 1998 and is not an excepted matter or a reserved matter within Schedule 2 or Schedule 3 to the Northern Ireland Act 1998) as noted in paragraph 82 of Annex A of the Explanatory Notes.
