Clause 1, page 2, line 26, after “lessee in occupation” insert “, or a person who is a legal occupant of the property and who is in a contractual relationship with the lessee or freeholder,”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment is intended to expand the definition of persons who can request an operator to provide an electronic telecommunications service to include rental tenants and other legal occupants who may not own the lease to the property they occupy.

Sir Iain Duncan Smith

Cyber Security Centre, in newly deployed electronic communications services.”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment would prevent vendors designated as high-risk being used by operators granted Part 4A orders.

Jeremy Corbyn

3

Clause 1, page 9, line 29, at end insert—

“(8) Any operator exercising Part 4A code rights is obliged to ensure that alternative operators can easily install the hardware needed to provide their own electronic communications service.

(9) The definition of “easily” in sub-paragraph (8)
is to be provided by Ofcom.”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment is intended to ensure that tenants are not “locked in” to using services provided by a single operator and to encourage market competition.

Clause 1, page 9, line 29, at end insert—

“(8) Any operator exercising Part 4A code rights must publish a plan setting out how they will remove high-risk vendors, as defined by the National Cyber Security Centre, from their network.”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment would ensure companies exercising part 4A rights have clear plans in place to remove vendors who are designated high-risk and a national security concern.

Clause 1, page 13, line 7, at end insert—

“Information on cyber security

27HH Any operator exercising a Part 4A code right must provide written information to new customers in the target premises on best practice on cyber security when using the electronic communications service that has been provided.”

the Bill

Member's explanatory statement

This amendment would require operators to equip new customers with literature on how best to keep their home cyber secure, particularly in the era of the Internet of Things and with recent reports of hacked domestic devices such as baby monitors.
