“(e) where a person has entered into a non-disclosure agreement that has the effect of preventing that person from speaking about behaviour that may be criminal misconduct.”

Member's explanatory statement

This amendment expands the definition of a victim to include those who have signed NDAs which restrict them on speaking about incidents which may constitute criminal misconduct, to recognise that many NDAs include the dropping of allegations as part of a settlement, and to recognise that those who have been legally prevented from speaking about experiences are victimised in the process.
