153

Insert the following new Clause –

“Function of the Commissioner to maintain a register of data controllers

- (1) The Commissioner must maintain a register of all data controllers.
- (2) Subject to subsection (3), personal data must not be processed unless an entry in respect of the data controller is included in the register maintained by the Commissioner under subsection (1).

After Clause 114 - continued

- (3) Subsections (1) and (2) do not apply in relation to any processing whose sole purpose is the maintenance of a public register.”

LORD STEVENSON OF BALMACARA
LORD KENNEDY OF SOUTHWARK

153ZA★ Insert the following new Clause—

“Additional functions

- (1) Where a data controller relies on derogations or limitations under the GDPR, the Commissioner has a duty to—
- (a) verify the proportionality of such reliance, and
 - (b) ensure that the data controller has adequate systems in place to safeguard the rights of data subjects.
- (2) The Commissioner must consult—
- (a) trade associations;
 - (b) data subjects; and
 - (c) persons who appear to the Commissioner to represent the interests of data subjects, on how the Commissioner can act to support claims taken by residents of the UK against a data controller based in another territory who has breached their rights in relation to data protection.”

- 155 Insert the following new Clause –

“Guidance on minimum standards of age-appropriate design

- (1) For the purposes of sections 8 and (Parental consent in relation to children under the age of 13 years), the Commissioner must produce and publish guidance on the minimum standards of age-appropriate design necessary to meet the development needs of children.
- (2) The Commissioner’s guidance under subsection (1) must include the minimum standards of age-appropriate design in relation to –
 - (a) default privacy settings;
 - (b) data minimisation standards;
 - (c) presentation and language of terms and conditions;
 - (d) transparency of paid for activity, such as product placement and marketing;
 - (e) sharing and resale of data;
 - (f) veracity and accuracy of information;
 - (g) strategies used to encourage extended user engagement;
 - (h) user reporting and resolution processes and systems; and
 - (i) any other aspect of design that the Commissioner considers relevant.
- (3) For each aspect of the guidance under subsection (2), the Commissioner must provide guidance on best practice for age-appropriate design relevant at different stages of childhood.

- (4) The Commissioner's guidance under this section must also highlight opportunities for the design of information society services to support the Commissioner's obligation to promote public awareness and understanding of the risks, rules, safeguards and rights in relation to processing as set out in Article 57(1)(b) of the GDPR.
- (5) Before preparing such guidance, the Commissioner must consult the Secretary of State and such of the following as the Commissioner considers appropriate—
 - (a) children;
 - (b) parents;
 - (c) persons who appear to represent the interests of children;
 - (d) child development experts; and
 - (e) trade associations.
- (6) Guidance under this section may include transitional provisions.
- (7) When preparing or amending the guidance under this section and when determining whether a data controller has complied with minimum standards of age-appropriate design contained within the guidance, the Commissioner must have regard to the UK's status as a signatory to the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child."

156 Insert the following new Clause—

"Approval of guidance on minimum standards of age-appropriate design

- (1) When guidance is prepared under section (Guidance on minimum standards of age-appropriate design)—
 - (a) the Commissioner must submit the final version of the guidance to the Secretary of State, and
 - (b) the Secretary of State must by regulations specify the guidance.
- (2) A statutory instrument containing regulations under subsection (1)(b) is subject to the affirmative resolution procedure.
- (3) If the statutory instrument under subsection (1)(b) is approved, the guidance comes into force at the end of the period of 21 days beginning with the day on which it was approved by the second House."

157 Insert the following new Clause—

"Review of guidance on minimum standards of age-appropriate design

- (1) The Commissioner must keep under review guidance issued under section (Approval of guidance on minimum standards of age-appropriate design).
- (2) The Commissioner must submit any amendments to the guidance to the Secretary of State and the Secretary of State must by regulations specify those amendments to the guidance.
- (3) A statutory instrument containing regulations under subsection (2) is subject to the negative resolution procedure."

LORD STEVENSON OF BALMACARA
LORD KENNEDY OF SOUTHWARK

157A★ Insert the following new Clause—

“Personal data ethics code of practice

- (1) Within six months of the passing of this Act, the Commissioner must prepare an ethics code of practice for data controllers.
- (2) The code must include a duty of care from the data controller and the processor to the data subject.
- (3) The code must provide best practice for data controllers and processors on measures which, in relation to the processing of personal data—
 - (a) reduce vulnerabilities and inequalities;
 - (b) protect human rights;
 - (c) increase the security of personal data;
 - (d) ensure that the access, use and sharing of personal data is transparent, and the purposes of personal data processing are communicated clearly and accessibly to data subjects.
- (4) The code must consider—
 - (a) how to support data processing which has clear benefits for users and members of the public;
 - (b) the effectiveness of measures to seek the consent of users to the collection and use of their personal data;
 - (c) the risks and limitations of new technologies, ensuring that there is sufficient human oversight.
- (5) The code must also provide guidance on—
 - (a) default privacy settings;
 - (b) data minimisation standards;
 - (c) presentation and language of terms and conditions;
 - (d) transparency of paid for activity, such as product placement and marketing;
 - (e) sharing and resale of data;
 - (f) veracity and accuracy of information;
 - (g) strategies used to encourage extended user engagement;
 - (h) user reporting and resolution processes and systems;
 - (i) responses to unintended consequences of technological advances in the processing of personal data; and
 - (j) any other aspect of design that the Commissioner considers relevant.
- (6) Where a data controller or processor does not follow the code under this section, the data controller or processor is subject to a fine to be determined by the Commissioner.
- (7) Before preparing the code of practice and prior to every revision, the Commissioner must consult the Secretary of State and relevant stakeholders.

- (8) The Secretary of State must bring the code of practice into force by regulations made by statutory instrument.
- (9) A statutory instrument containing regulations under this section may not be made unless a draft of the instrument has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament.”

- (4) The Minister may after the laying of such a statement make an order in the terms of the draft if it is approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament.
- (5) However, a committee of either House charged with reporting on the draft order may, at any time after the laying of a statement under subsection (3) and before the draft order is approved by that House under subsection (4), recommend under this subsection that no further proceedings be taken in relation to the draft order.
- (6) Where a recommendation is made by a committee of either House under subsection (5) in relation to a draft order, no proceedings may be taken in relation to the draft order in that House under subsection (4) unless the recommendation is, in the same session, rejected by resolution of that House.
- (7) If, after the expiry of the 60-day period, the Minister wishes to make an order consisting of a version of the draft order with material changes, he must lay before Parliament—
 - (a) a revised draft order;
 - (b) a statement giving details of—
 - (i) any representations made under subsection (2)(a); and
 - (ii) the revisions proposed; and
 - (c) an assessment of the likely impact of the revised order on—
 - (i) industry;
 - (ii) charities; and
 - (iii) public authorities.
- (8) The Minister may after laying a revised draft order and statement under subsection (7) make an order in the terms of the revised draft if it is approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament.
- (9) However, a committee of either House charged with reporting on the revised draft order may, at any time after the revised draft order is laid under subsection (7) and before it is approved by that House under subsection (8), recommend under this subsection that no further proceedings be taken in relation to the revised draft order.
- (10) Where a recommendation is made by a committee of either House under subsection (9) in relation to a revised draft order, no proceedings may be taken in relation to the revised draft order in that House under subsection (8) unless the recommendation is, in the same session, rejected by resolution of that House.
- (11) For the purposes of subsections (4) and (8) an order is made in the terms of a draft order if it contains no material changes to the provisions of the draft order.
- (12) In this section the “60-day period” means the period of 60 days beginning with the day on which the draft order was laid before Parliament.”
