- (1) The Secretary of State must appoint an independent Personal Data Ethics Advisory Board (“the board”) as soon as reasonably practicable after the passing of this Act.
- (2) The board's functions, in relation to the processing of personal data to which the GDPR and this Act applies, are—
  - (a) to monitor further technical advances in the use and management of personal data and their implications for the rights of data subjects;
  - (b) to protect the individual and collective rights and interests of data subjects in relation to their personal data;
  - (c) to ensure that trade-offs between the rights of data subjects and the use and management of personal data are made transparently, inclusively, and with accountability;
  - (d) to seek out good practices and learn from successes and failures in the use and management of personal data;
  - (e) to enhance the skills of data subjects and controllers in the use and management of personal data.
- (3) The board must work with the Commissioner to prepare a data ethics code of practice for data controllers, which must—
  - (a) include a duty of care on the data controller and the processor to the data subject;
  - (b) provide best practice for data controllers and processors on measures which, in relation to the processing of personal data—
    - (i) reduce vulnerabilities and inequalities;
    - (ii) protect human rights;

- (iii) increase the security of personal data; and
  - (iv) ensure that the access, use and sharing of personal data is transparent, and the purposes of personal data processing are communicated clearly and accessibly to data subjects.
- (4) The code must also include guidance in relation to the processing of personal data in the public interest and the substantial public interest.
  - (5) Where a data controller or processor does not follow the code under this section, the data controller or processor is subject to a fine to be determined by the Commissioner.
  - (6) The board must report annually to the Secretary of State.
  - (7) The report in subsection (6) may contain recommendations to the Secretary of State and the Commissioner relating to how they can improve the processing of personal data and the protection of data subjects' rights by improving methods of—
    - (a) monitoring and evaluating the use and management of personal data;
    - (b) sharing best practice and setting standards for data controllers; and
    - (c) clarifying and enforcing data protection rules.
  - (8) The Secretary of State must lay the report made under subsection (6) before both Houses of Parliament.”
