“Amendments to statutory instruments subject to the affirmative procedure

- (1) This paragraph applies to any statutory instrument of which, pursuant to this Act, a draft (“the draft instrument”) must be laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament.
- (2) The draft instrument may be amended by resolution in the House of Parliament by which it is being considered.
- (3) If each House of Parliament passes a resolution that the draft instrument must have effect with the same specified amendment or amendments, a Minister of the Crown must make those regulations as amended within 10 sitting days, beginning on the sitting day after the second House passes its resolution.
- (4) In the event that a draft instrument previously approved by a resolution in the House of a Commons is rejected by the House of Lords, the draft resolution in the form approved by the House of Commons will, after 28 sitting days from its approval by a resolution of the House of Commons, and unless the House of Commons directs otherwise, be deemed to have been approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament.
- (5) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (4), the draft instrument as approved by a resolution of the House of Commons will be deemed rejected by the House of Lords if, within 28 sitting days from its approval by a resolution of the House of Commons, it is not approved by the House of Lords either without amendments or with only such amendments as may be agreed by both Houses of Parliament.
- (6) For the purposes of this paragraph, a sitting day is any day on which both Houses of Parliament sit.
- (7) The periods of time prescribed by this paragraph may be varied by a resolution approved by each House of Parliament.”
