BUSINESS OF THE DAY

1. QUEEN'S SPEECH (MOTION FOR AN ADDRESS): ADJOURNED DEBATE [28 JUNE]

Until 5.00pm (Standing Order No. 9\(3\))

■ Proposed subject for debate: Economy and Jobs

That an Humble Address be presented to Her Majesty, as follows:

Most Gracious Sovereign,

We, Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Commons of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland in Parliament assembled, beg leave to offer our humble thanks to Your Majesty for the Gracious Speech which Your Majesty has addressed to both Houses of Parliament.

At end add 'but regret that the measures set out fail to meet the challenges facing the majority of people living in the nations and regions of the UK; call in particular for the Government to abandon its plans to pursue a hard Brexit and instead agree a new position with all parties and all devolved governments that seeks to secure continued membership of the Single Market; further call on the Government to halt further austerity spending cuts, which are damaging the UK's economic growth and punishing the incomes of hard-working people, and to invest in public services to stimulate economic growth; and call on the Government in particular to reverse the two-child policy and remove the rape clause and lift the benefit freeze, to deliver intergenerational fairness by implementing a transition for the WASPI women and a real Living Wage for all adults above the age of 18, and to acknowledge its responsibility as a member of the international community to contribute to the resolution of the refugee crisis in Europe.'.

At end add 'but respectfully regret that measures to address the inequality in treatment of women from Northern Ireland with regard to healthcare provision were not included in the Gracious Speech; recognise that the UK currently provides funding for access to healthcare services including abortion to residents of other nations as part of its international development work; note that women from Northern Ireland have no choice but to travel to England for abortion services and face serious difficulties in doing so, and as such the current position risks the continuation of an unwanted pregnancy which may cause distress or illness to the patient concerned purely on the basis of her place of residence within the UK rather than any medical requirements; therefore call on the Government to clarify, if necessary by legislating, that under section 1(1)(a) of the National Health Service Act 2006 it is a requirement on the Secretary of State for Health to prevent illness among those who wish to end an unwanted pregnancy, who are UK taxpayers, by providing such services; and call on the Government to ensure the provision of adequate funding and guidance so that all UK citizens including those from Northern Ireland may access medical services including abortion procedures in England if they so wish without charge, and that such provision does not interfere with decisions made by the Northern Ireland Assembly with regard to the provision of such services in Northern Ireland.'

Amendment (j)

Stephen Kinnock

At end add 'but respectfully regret that the Gracious Speech does not make reference to a Bill to commit the United Kingdom to transitional membership of the European Economic Area, following withdrawal from the European Union.'

Amendment (k)Ian Murray*Mr Paul J Sweeney*Gerard Killen*Martin Whitfield*Danielle Rowley*Hugh Gaffney

At end add 'but respectfully regret that the Gracious Speech does not end austerity or cuts to social security, or provide transitional protection to the WASPI women, or extend the exemption from Value Added Tax to Police Scotland and the Scottish Fire and Rescue Service, or provide greater support for the North Sea oil and gas industry; and further regret that the additional spending in Northern Ireland has not been matched by equivalent additional spending in Scotland, England and Wales.'

Amendment (l)Jeremy Corbyn*John McDonnell*Rebecca Long Bailey*Tom Watson*Angela Rayner*Mr Nicholas Brown

At end add 'but respectfully regret that the Gracious Speech fails to end austerity in public services, to reverse falling living standards and to make society more equal; further regret that it contains no reference to an energy price cap and call on the Government to legislate for such a cap at the earliest opportunity; call on the Government to commit to a properly resourced industrial strategy to increase infrastructure investment in every nation and region of the UK; recognise that no deal on Brexit is the very worst outcome and therefore call on the Government to negotiate an outcome that prioritises jobs and the economy, delivers the exact same benefits the UK has as a member of the Single Market and the Customs Union, ensures that there is no weakening of cooperation in security and policing, and maintains the existing rights of EU nationals living in the UK and UK nationals living in the EU; believe that those who are richest and large corporations, those with the broadest shoulders, should pay more tax, while more is done to clamp down on tax avoidance and evasion; call for increased funding in public services to expand childcare, scrap tuition fees at universities and colleges and restore Education Maintenance Allowance, maintenance grants and nurses' bursaries; regret that with inflation rising, living standards are again falling; and call on the Government to end the public sector pay cap and increase the minimum wage to a real living wage of £10 per hour by 2020.'
