QUESTIONS FOR ORAL AND WRITTEN ANSWER - NEW SYSTEM FOR DIGITAL TABLING OF QUESTIONS

The new system for the digital tabling of questions went live on Friday 17 November.

This system modernises the process of tabling oral and written questions and replaces the e-tabling system. The system improves the service to Members by, for example, enabling the tracking of questions, providing information on any queries raised by the Table Office and sending alerts to Members who are successful in oral questions shuffles. Members are able to delegate authority for tabling questions to their staff, if they wish to do so.

What has not changed?

The daily quota for digitally submitting written questions (up to 20 questions in total).

The daily quota of five named day written questions.

The deadline for digitally submitting questions of 6.30pm or the rising of the House (if earlier) on each sitting day from Monday to Wednesday, 5:30pm or the rise of the House (if earlier) on Thursday and 2.30pm on sitting and non-sitting Fridays (or the rising of the House if earlier on sitting Fridays).

Members are still able to table questions for written and oral answer in hard copy by post or in person.

There are no changes to the current arrangements for tabling Early Day Motions or any other business.

If you have any questions about the new system, or you would like to know how to delegate authority for your staff, contact the Table Office on x3302 or 3303, by email at tableoffice@parliament.uk or in person. Alternatively, you can contact the Procedural Hub on x7333, by email at proceduralhub@parliament.uk or in person.

BACKBENCH BUSINESS■ Prison reform and safety*Robert Neill

That this House takes note of the Justice Committee's Twelfth and Fourteenth Reports of Session 2016-17, on Prison reform and the Government Responses to them; notes with concern the continuing crisis in prisons in England and Wales, with an historically high prison population and unacceptably high levels of violence, drug availability and use, disturbances and self-harm and self-inflicted deaths in the adult and youth custodial estate; further notes the critical reports by HM Chief Inspector of Prisons on individual establishments and thematic issues; welcomes the Government's intention to proceed with a programme of prison reform and to produce a prison safety and reform action plan as recommended by the Committee, and the publication of performance data on each prison from 26 October 2017; regrets the fact that the Government does not intend to bring forward legislation to establish a statutory purpose for prisons, enhance the powers of HM Chief Inspector of Prisons, and place the Prisons and Probation Ombudsman (PPO) and the UK's National Preventive Mechanism on a statutory basis; further regrets the Government's rejection of the Committee's recommendation that it should report at six-monthly intervals on the impact of governor empowerment on complaints made to the PPO and Independent Monitoring Boards; and calls on the Government to ensure that information on prison performance and safety is published regularly, and with sufficient detail and timeliness to enable the effective scrutiny of the management of prisons by the Ministry of Justice and HM Prison and Probation Service.

Grahame Morris

That this House calls on the Government to publish proposals to provide a non-means tested solution for all women born on or after 6 April 1950 who are affected by changes to the State Pension age in the 1995 and 2011 Pension Acts.

- Hormone pregnancy tests

Sir Mike Penning

That this House regrets that the terms of reference for the Commission on Human Medicines Expert Working Group on Hormone Pregnancy Tests was asked to consider evidence on a possible association between exposure in pregnancy to hormone pregnancy tests and adverse outcomes in pregnancy, but the Commission's Report concluded that there was no causal association between the use of hormone pregnancy tests and babies born with deformities between 1953–1975, even though it was not asked to find a causal link; believes that the inquiry was flawed because it did not consider systematic regulatory failures of the Committee on Safety in Medicines and did not give careful consideration to the evidence presented to it; and calls on the Government, after consultation with the families affected so they have confidence in the process, to establish a statutory inquiry under the Inquiries Act 2005 to review the evidence on a causal association between hormone pregnancy tests on pregnancies and to consider the regulatory failures of the Committee on Safety in Medicines.

B. REMAINING ORDERS AND NOTICES

Business in this section has not yet been scheduled for a specific date. It has therefore been set down formally to be taken in the Chamber today but is not expected to be taken today.

1. PENSIONS

Secretary David Gauke

That the draft Pension Schemes Act 2015 \(Transitional Provisions and Appropriate Independent Advice\) \(Amendment No. 2\) Regulations 2017, which were laid before this House on 10 July, be approved.

2. HIGH SPEED RAIL \(WEST MIDLANDS - CREWE\) BILL: SECOND READING

Amendment (a)

Michael Fabricant

add 'That this House, while recognising the increasing need for additional north-south rail line capacity to relieve congestion on the West Coast Main Line south of the Midlands and to improve connectivity between major cities and with London, declines to give the High Speed Rail (West Midlands - Crewe) Bill a Second Reading because (1) there are better ways to address any rail capacity issues north of the Midlands, (2) the line set out in the Bill is routed through unspoiled countryside unnecessarily damaging the environment including wildlife habitats, ancient woodlands and waterways, fails to connect via HS2 Phase 1 with HS1, the Channel Tunnel and the European continent, fails to connect directly through HS2 Phase 1 with potential airport hubs for London and the south-east of England, and fails to connect directly to existing major mainline stations and the existing rail network, (3) the Bill provides inadequate compensation to those blighted by the route and those whose property is subject to compulsory purchase orders, (4) the Bill fails to provide for sufficient public transport to disperse HS2 passengers disembarking at London Euston, and (5) the Bill does not implement a more environmentally sympathetic, better integrated, and more cost-effective route, such as the route originally proposed by Arup which would have used existing transport corridors minimising environmental damage and reducing costs by around £10 billion, and which would have connected directly with HS1 and the continent, London Heathrow Airport, Birmingham International Airport, and major conurbations.'

Notes:

The Speaker has not yet considered this Bill for certification.

3. HIGH SPEED RAIL \(WEST MIDLANDS - CREWE\) BILL: MONEY

Mel Stride

That, for the purposes of any Act resulting from the High Speed Rail (West Midlands - Crewe) Bill, it is expedient to authorise the payment out of money provided by Parliament of:

- (1) any expenditure incurred by the Secretary of State in consequence of the Act, and
- (2) any increase attributable to the Act in the sums payable out of money so provided under any other enactment.

Notes:

Queen's Recommendation signified.
