■ Local government finance

Jeremy Corbyn

Andrew Gwynne

Jim McMahon

Margaret Greenwood

Valerie Vaz

Mr Nicholas Brown

That this House notes that the Government's proposed changes to local authority funding will dramatically downgrade the importance of deprivation in deciding the distribution of funding to local authorities and will have a devastating effect on local adult social care funding; further notes that proposed changes will cause even greater reductions in foundation funding and children's social care; and calls on the Government to scrap its Review of Local Authorities' Relative Needs and Resources and to ensure that local authorities are properly funded through a fairer system that properly takes account of deprivation, need and differing council tax bases.

Amendment (a)

The Prime Minister

Secretary Robert Jenrick

Rishi Sunak

Secretary Gavin Williamson

Secretary Thérèse Coffey

Secretary Andrea Leadsom

Oliver Dowden

Mark Spencer

Line 1, leave out from "House" to end and add "welcomes the Government's provisional local government finance settlement, which will deliver the biggest year-on-year real terms increase in councils' spending power for a decade; recognises the pressures on adult and children's social care as well as critical local government services, and welcomes the additional £1.5 billion available for social care in 2020-21; notes that the Government has listened to calls for a simpler, up-to-date, evidence-based funding formula and has committed to consult on all aspects of the formula review in spring 2020; further welcomes the Government's ambition to empower communities and level up local powers through a future Devolution White Paper; and welcomes the Government's progress on this agenda already with the £3.6bn Towns Fund and eight Devolution Deals now agreed."

■ TransportJeremy Corbyn*Andy McDonald*Matt Rodda*Nia Griffith*Valerie Vaz*Mr Nicholas Brown

That this House acknowledges that the UK's transport emissions have not substantially fallen since 1990 and have increased since 2010; and calls on the Government to develop and implement a plan to eliminate the substantial majority of transport emissions by 2030, to decarbonise the UK's entire bus network, to invest in an electric vehicle charging network that can support the majority of vehicles on the UK's roads by 2030, to cut bus and rail fares, to increase public transport patronage, to provide funding for cycling and walking, including investment in cycleways and grants for ebikes, to introduce a network of clean air zones to tackle illegal levels of air pollution, and to bring aviation emissions within the UK's climate targets.
